

Parent Involvement Core Beliefs

Parents are their children's first teachers

A partnership among parents, children and schools, is the key to learning

Leadership and accountability are the keys to our success

It takes the entire community to ensure the success of all our students